MARKET REVIEW.

Houston, Texas Aug. 7.—The interest of the cotton trade, both producing and speculative, was centered this week on the government report on the condition of the growing crop, which is given as 75.5 per cent of the normal on July 25, as compared with 80.4 per cent on June 24 this year and 82.1 per cent on July 25 last year.

The area planted to cotton this year as previously reported by the department of agriculture in its preliminary estimate is about $4,000,000 acres or about 80 per cent of the acreage that was planted last year.

Although the government report is considered bullish and higher prices are inevitable, the general good of the growing crop in Texas is general cause for concern.

The influx of California fruit combined with the great volume of Texas fruit is producing low prices in the Houston produce market. Fruits are in greatest supply and the bottoms has dropped out of that market, even on choice stock. Southwest Texas onions are in liberal supply. The potato market is steady. Texas potatoes 20 cents to the bushel and California potatoes 11. The presence of so much green stuff on the market keeps the potato at a low sale.

No failures for the week are reported over South Texas. Collections are better and a general optimism prevails over trade prospects. A general easing of the wholesale fall rush is accounted for by the prevalence of the vacation season.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 7.—That the people generally, and especially the sheep and stock raisers in the western section of Texas, are deeply interested in the act passed at the regular session of the Thirty-second Legislature providing for the destruction of wolves and other wild animals, which becomes effective September 1, is evidenced by the number of inquiries regarding the measure that are daily being received by the State game, fish and oyster department.

Fund Total $100,000.
Chief Game Warden Jeff D. Cox says that hardly a day passes without an inquiry or two being received, despite the fact that this department has nothing whatever to do with the enforcement of this law.

The new law carries an appropriation of $10,000 which will become available on the first of next month. The purpose of the law is to protect stockmen, farmers and horticulturists from such wild animals as the coyote, bobcat, wolf, panther, Mexican lion, tiger, jaguar and wild cat. A bounty of $1 is paid for each of these wild animals, with a bounty of $10 is paid.

The law provides that the heads of such wild animals killed shall be presented by the person or persons killing them to the commissioners court in the county in which the animals are killed. The county will then pay the amount due. The State will pay three-fourths of the bounty, and the county one-fourth.

Animals Cause Large Loss.

There are thousands of wild animals in the western section of Texas, and the loss to stock raisers through the depredations of these animals runs considerably over $1,000,000 a year. State Senator Claude Humprecht of El Paso was one of the strongest advocates of the measure when it was up for consideration in the legislature.

The governor would have vetoed the act had not an agreement been reached that it would not become effective until September 1, 1912. This does not indicate that the governor was opposed to the measure, but his objection was based on the fact that the funds available in the treasury would not have been sufficient to put the act into effect before that period.

MADERO'S GOVERNMENT MAKING PROGRESS.

To predict that the insurrection in Mexico will come to an end within six months, or any other time, is in words rather loosely, since the proceedings long being carried on in that country by Orozco and Zapatista are incapable of being gauged by any standards of time. Still, the progress of the great fight. Each of the problems of this strife will carry millions of pounds "load" so that the foundations themselves are a great weight.

The administration building is filled with officials and experts, clerks and accountants, all right on the site itself and busy with the work of preparing this. This work will not flag a moment until the expedition is opened January 1, 1913, and much work will continue during that year, for the expedition is to be kept open until midnight December 31, a tribute to what has been called the most delightful climate in the world, that of San Diego.

The word now comes from Wanta.

Whereas, H. L. Edwards by deed of trust dated May 29th, 1911, duly recorded in Deed of Trust Records of Nueces County, Texas, Vol. "A" pp. 26 to 35, conveyed to H. H. Hile, as trustee, the following property;

All those certain tracts or parcels of land lying and being situated in the County of Nueces, State of Texas, being particularly described as follows: to-wit: Lot No. (1) containing in section No. (22) fifty-two and lot No. (23) twenty-four in section No. Fifty-one (51) as shown on the map of the Flour Bluff and Elmwood Farms & Garden Tracts, made by J. M. Peter, C. E. and recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Nueces County, Texas, being lands conveyed to said H. L. Edwards by J. T. Brown and J. H. Grier March 18th, 1911; and,

Whereas, said deed of trust was executed to secure one certain promissory note for the principal sum of $10,000 dated April 29th, 1911, due four months after date and bearing 10 per cent per annum interest from date, providing for ten per cent discounts on each payment of principal and interest not paid at maturity, stored by H. L. Edwards and payable to J. H. Hile in San Antonio, Texas, said deed of trust also containing said provisions and providing for said note to be transferred or substitute trustee, upon request of the owner or holder of said note and for a commission of ten per cent to said trustee or substitute trustee for said services, and,

Whereas, the said J. H. Hile is still the legal holder and owner of said note, same being wholly due and unpaid and has placed the same in hands of an attorney for collection, whereby the attorney's fees provided for thereon have become due, and said note is now due and no part of same has been paid, and,

Whereas, said deed of trust provided that in case of death, disability, refusal to act or absence from the state of said trustee, H. H. Hile, the said owner or legal representative, or any holder of said note may appoint a substitute trustee who shall have all the powers herein conferred in said deed of trust, the said named trustee, H. H. Hile having failed and refused to act as such although requested to advertise and sell said property as provided for in said deed of trust, J. H. Hile, payee and legal owner and holder of said note did by a duly acknowledged paper, written dated Jan. 29th, 1912, which is duly recorded in Nueces County, Tex., records, Vol. W, pp. 1-4, appoint one Edward Culbreth, substitute trustee, the said owner of said note has requested said Edward Culbreth, substitute trustee to proceed to sell said property at trustee's sale under said deed of trust, to pay off said note, interest and attorney's fees and the amount which will be due and unpaid on the last Tuesday in September, 1912, will be $25,000 principal, $2,500 interest, and $2,500 attorney's fees, making a total of $28,000.

Now Therefore, Know All Men by These Presents: That by virtue of the authority vested in me as substitute trustee, as aforesaid, in accordance with the provisions of said deed of trust at the request of said J. H. Hile, the owner and holder of said note I will proceed to sell the said above described real estate at the county courthouse door of Nueces County, Texas, in Corpus Christi, to the highest bidder for cash at public auction on the first Tuesday in September A. D. 1912 between the hours of ten o'clock a.m. and four o'clock p.m. on said date to satisfy said note and interest and attorney's fees.

Madero is evidently making progress. The insurrection, to dignify the operations of Orozco and Zapatista with that name, is obviously petering out, despite the efforts of exaltate foreigners and of selfish chauvinists in this country to magnify it, and what is more important he is calling the support of the men who have the genius of government.

Witness my hand, this 1st day of August, A. D. 1912.
